

Everyone watch so what you say will be, I listen so kindly to when Jesus shouted his name that I come out of the womb. It's something how we learn to walk, learn when to say these words for love, words for creating and then becoming, words for words and how love is birth and then the work of birth, a woman waking up to love the world into a beginning, the poetry it takes to love, and become, a man.
